Independent Research Projects

- Mentor to Josh Boettcher. Josh's paper presentations include the Seven Rivers Undergraduate Research Symposium, the Midwest Annual Sociological Meetings, the Iowa State Sociological Meetings, and the National Conference for Undergraduate Research. I am currently tutoring Josh on Logistic Regression analysis.
- Mentor to Corrine Bishoff. Corrine presented her paper on the impact of divorce on young adult children in my family class. She will develop this work to present at the Iowa Sociological Meetings in 2005.

Student Research Assistant

- Mentor to research apprentice. Duties involve training the student to assist with library and web searches, compile and organize information, summarize and analyze documents, construct data tables, and assist with content analysis.

2003-2004 Academic Year

- Mentor to three students working on independent research projects. All three papers were submitted to the Iowa Sociological Association Meetings, and all three papers were accepted. The students presented their work at the 2004 Spring Conference.

SENIOR PAPERS:

2004-2005 Faculty advisor for seven students completing their senior projects
2003-2004 Faculty advisor for seven students completing their senior projects

FUNDED RESEARCH EXPERIENCE:

2002 Supervised focus group under the direction of Michael Schulman. This research investigated hazards and injuries among working teens in North Carolina. Funded by UNC IPRC/NIOSH $684,338.

1997-2002 Member of a research team under the direction of Jeffrey Leiter. This exploratory research investigated the relative risk of exposure to occupational injuries for Hispanic workers, stereotypes about Latinos, and the emerging relationships between the Latino and African-American communities. I participated in all phases of the research process including problem conceptualization, research design, sampling, and questionnaire development. Funded by the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation.

1993-1995 Member of a research team under the direction of Ronald Czaja investigating family structure, function and health. The purpose of this research was to identify and evaluate the reliability and validity of questionnaire items for measuring family structure and functioning for inclusion in the National Health Interview Survey in 1996. I participated in all phases of the research process, including problem conceptualization, research design, focus group observation, sampling, questionnaire development, pre-testing, questionnaire revision, interviewer training, face-to-face interviewing, coding, data analysis, and reporting of data. Funded by the National Center for Health Statistics $17,640
